Frequently Asked Question

1. Can I create my own Package?
2. Do you have Existing Packages to choose from?
3. Do I need to hold a service?
4. Is a death certificate required by law?
5. Does my loved one need to be embalmed?
6. Do I have to provide clothing?
7. Do I need a Celebrant or Clergy to have a service?
8. Can I still view on a Nil Service Package?
9. Are cemetery fees extra?
10. Can I order the death certificate at a later date?

1. Can I Create my own packages?

Absolutely! You can mix and match any of our services to create a custom package that suits your families budget and wishes.

Feel free to put together a package based on the prices you see here. Your funeral director will advise you on what is necessary and what is not legally required.

2. Do you have Existing packages to Choose from?

Yes we have starting packages and Deluxe Packages. Please contact us to find out the variety of packages we have to choose from and whether they are right for you.

We also have upgraded packages with upgraded coffins and flowers to choose from.

Please speak with our directors to see what package would suit your budget.

3. Do I need to hold a service?

No, it is not legally required for you to hold a funeral service within NSW.

You are however required to Bury , Cremate or Repatriate a deceased by law.

We do have many No service options for families wishing to do a memorial service later on.

4. Is a death certificate required by law?

No, a certificate is not required by law. Funeral directors must always register the death with NSW Birth, Death and Marriages. but ordering a physical copy of the certificate is optional.

5. Does my loved one need to be embalmed?

Embalming is not required in most cases. If a loved one will be held in our care for longer than 7 days, some type of embalming maybe required.

Embalming may also be required in some cases due to physical conditions or for Repatriations and above ground burials.

6. Do I have to provide clothing?

It is not required to provide clothing for funeral services to take place, but clothing is required if you would like to view the deceased.

If you wish to have your loved one dressed or viewed, you will need to provide clothing.

Clothing can be dropped off at our head office in Roselands or can also be couriered to our head office.

7. Do I need a Celebrant or Clergy to have a service?

No. It is not required to have a Celebrant or an ordained minister to conduct a service.

You are welcome to gather as families and friends and say a few words or alternatively ask a friend to conduct a service. Having a celebrant makes it easier to share all the memories and stories and organise the structure and flow of the service. Particularly when one is grieving, this can become quite difficult to do.

8. Can I have a Nil service and add a view?

Yes, you can still do a nil service and add a view and dressing optional extras to the package.

Dressing is required for viewings. Family must provide clothing 24 hours prior to view

9. Are cemetery fees extra?

Yes. All cemetery fees are added on top of our fees. As cemeteries vary in fees, charges and services they provide, we always add their fees on top of our charges.

Fees will vary on many factors, from which cemetery you choose to go with, what type of service you wish to have (Burial, Cremation etc), whether you wish to use their chapel or have a witness insertion. All these factor will vary in price.

If you would like to see the total costs, please feel free to call us and one of our consultant will put together a quote for you with the cemetery fees.

10. Can i order the death certificate at a later date?

Yes a family member, informant or executor can order the death certificate directly from NSW Birth, Death and Marriages at any time.

You can do this online by visiting the nsw.gov.au website.

BDM will charge a fee to order the certificate.
